"Treating the world well"® southwest technologies inc.

Quality Policy It is the policy of Southwest Technologies Inc. to design, manufacture, market and distribute products consistent with our high quality standards. We periodically review the products for design and performance improvements.

The products will be designed and manufactured to reliably perform their intended functions as labeled. All products will be produced and marketed within the established company guidelines.

Wrist rests effectively cushion your wrists while using your computer

- Ergonomically correct comfort
- Helps reduce repetitive motion problems
- Helps reduce pain caused by cramping, tingling or fatigue
- Gently massages and cushions wrist and arm area
- Leakproof – solid gel, will not leak if punctured
- Microwaveable
- Can be stored in freezer for cooling comfort
- Non-slip bottom surface stays in place until you move it
- Removable cover - Cleaning is fast & easy
- Latex Free

It has been over 25 years since Southwest Technologies developed the first hot/cold therapy items used by physical therapists. For years our employees have been using wrist rests and supports made of our premier, patented gel formulation. We are happy to pass this great product on to our customers.
